Aged Gelding Wins Feature At the Springs

McLean's Leochares Leads Field in Watervliet Handicap After Exciting Race

By W. J. Macbeth

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 16.—In one of the very prettiest and most exciting races of the year E. B. McLean's aged gelding Leochares won the Watervliet Handicap, at a mile, one of the twin features of the racing card, this afternoon. Leochares, J. E. Widener's Fair Gain, R. T. Wilson's Wyoming and Larry Waterbury's Jennings Park, which flashed past the judges in the order named, were so close at the end that one blanket would practically have covered them.

Leochares, which ran the mile in 1:33 1-5 over a track that was a trifle hinding, not to mention slow, raced back to his very best form, as old horses are wont to do now and then. He ran a truly remarkable race, this gelding, which could not beat a plug like Teller Maid a week ago on his first Eastern outing, but horses are very much alike and any brand of humans. When they get old they get flighty and cannot be depended upon to act alike two days together.

Leochares, which had been stake horses this afternoon to come back into his own, as he usually does once or twice every season, got the true thing, and did it like a true thing, very much. He drew an inside position in the race and was not a great disadvantage on a bad break, and Leochares broke badly. He was off last in a field of eleven.

Jockey Equal to Occasion

Jockey W. J. O'Brien, who had the leg up on Leochares, made the best of a bad bargain. After the start two propositions awaited him—of taking the long route home around the field or of awaiting a chance of getting through the pack after saving as much ground as possible. Larry Waterbury's Jennings Park broke from front and soon opened up a gap of length and half on Ballet Dancer II and Mr. Wilson's Wyoming. Fair Gain, another dangerous contender, was lying close to the pack. It required a cool head and a calculating ride on the part of O'Brien to relieve his early disadvantage. He was equal to the occasion.

The field swung into the stretch with Jennings Park and Fair Gain nose and Leochares back with the pack. O'Brien saved ground at the turn and then came with a great rush down the stretch. At the eighth pole the four were in a bunch, and they seemed as if Wyoming might get the lion's share of the purse. The Wilson horse, however, was hemmed in between Leochares and Fair Gain. Best of all, the favorite, was practically left at the post.

The more important of the two advertised features was the Kentucky Sells Stakes, for two-year-olds, which was won by E. B. McLean's Leochares, in money value only $2,500. The winner, which was entered to be sold for $10,000, was bid in by the stable for $2,405, was outbid to the stretch, where Wids saved a lot of ground and, coming through on the rail, drew away handily in the final furlong.

A Day of Upsets

It was a day of upsets and long shots, though, two odds-on favorites delivered impressively. In the steeplechase it was a question only of Midas II standing up. He was much the best, and rated behind the pace until almost the last turn, when he came away at will. Brand ran a fine race behind the winner. Jay Bird also ran a very courageous race. He attempted to spread-eagle the field, tired from the pace, eventually, but came on once more and was running strong at the finish. Sydara, went down at the fourth fence.

The fifth race at a mile and a quarter, was only a gallop for Tenors Bon, the 2 to 5 favorite, King Agrippa, which beat out Great Gull, the second choice, for the place, made a surprisingly close bid for the head of the stretch, but tired. The other two, Judge David and Wilfreda, were never prominent.

A real old-fashioned coup was turned by the Westerners in the final trial of the afternoon, a dash of five and a half furlongs, for two-year-olds. This was won by E. B. McLean's Leochares, which was a surprise, as he was a long shot. The winner, which was entered to be sold for $10,000, was bid in by the stable for $2,405, was outbid to the stretch, where Wids saved a lot of ground and, coming through on the rail, drew away handily in the final furlong.

Leochares may confidently expect a repetition of the duel between Man of War and John P. Grier which made the Dwyer Stakes such a superb contest when the same three-year-olds met here on Saturday next. The Travers Stakes, which will be remembered that Man of War, after a terrific struggle, carrying 126 pounds to John P. Grier's 125, won the Aqueduct prize. On Saturday, the champion will have to shoulder 126 pounds, as against Grier's 115.
